

FAQ

What is Qtrainers.com?

What are the advantages of Qtrainers.com?

Why should I join Qtrainers.com?

Am I eligible for International Corporate Trainings also?

Is Qtrainers.com are helpful for all the Freelance Trainers or also beneficial for Training Companies?

Can I change my skill after registration?

Why Qtrainers.com is asking to verify my Email ID?

I have joined and my registration is not confirmed yet, why?

My area of expertise is not listed, can it be added?

My personal details have changed, will Qtrainers.com can change them for me?

I want to remove all my details from Qtrainers.com and any of its websites, how do I do this?

My whole profile is deleted accidentally, what should I do now?

Can I promote other user training programme on my profile?

How do I stop receiving emails from Qtrainers.com?

Can I upload more than one course?

Why am I unable to follow an Employer?

Why my account suspended?

Why my training courses are invalid?

What is Qtrainers.com?

Qtrainers.com is 1st ever platform specifically designed for corporate trainings globally.

Qtrainers allows all corporate trainers to register themselves with this portal globally, so that any company who is seeking a particular training can search a trainer for relevant skills on this website and connect with them directly.

Till now, many big companies offer training services through training vendors or in-house trainers who are working with them. With Qtrainers.com, corporate find it not just easy to connect with Training providers but also to save cost by eliminating the huge margins retained by the Training Vendor who ultimately use the services of Freelance Trainers. The main advantages are cost savings and increased flexibility, while maintaining Transparency.

Qtrainers has a vision to create a transparency in the field of Corporate Trainings.

What are the advantages of Qtrainers.com?

For Companies

The Transparency between company and the trainers, any company who are looking for the training can save huge amount of money because they are dealing directly with the trainers or with any training vendors.

Easy Selection

Companies can go through the portal and search the trainers for their specific requirement or skills.

Time and Money Saving

Companies can either post their training requirement or they can search the trainers through Qtrainers.com database and connect with them directly, with this they can save their time on negotiating the price with the training vendors.

For Trainers

We understand that every corporate trainer is busy most of the time in making their training programme more effective or else they are giving the training in some other companies. Trainer's personal marketing is done mostly through the word of mouth.

Trainers rarely have time to market themselves, until they are famous or popular in the industry. They are famous through training vendors or the companies to whom they are providing the trainings. (NEED TO MAKE BETTER SENTENCE)

Why should I join Qtrainers.com?

Qtrainers.com will be promoting and branding itself on a global platform so that every trainer who is register on this portal will get an exposure and searched for their training programmes globally.

All corporate who require any training skills worldwide; they will post their requirements on this portal. So any trainer who is registered with Qtrainers.com will be able to see and connect for the trainings listed by the companies.

Am I eligible for International Corporate Trainings also?

YES. International Clients can also select trainers from other countries as well. Every company has to decide that which trainer is good for their specific requirements. But for some project they might prefer the trainers who reside in their country. On the other hand it might be chances that they will hire the trainers from other low cost countries to make use of cost advantages or for few specialized trainers they have to depend upon other countries trainers too which is not easily provided by their local training vendors.

Is Qtrainers.com are helpful for all the Freelance Trainers or also beneficial for Training Companies?

Yes Qtrainers.com is helpful for both Freelance Trainers as well as for Training Companies. There are many companies who are looking for different type of trainings; in this case they will prefer the training companies than an individual for their training programmes.

Can I change my skill after registration?

Yes, it will immediately effect on your profile.

Why Qtrainers.com is asking to verify my Email ID?

Qtrainers.com gives the confidence that the Trainer details shared has been verified by us and the Trainer is a genuine and for further communication we can share the details of training on registered email id.

I have joined and my registration is not confirmed yet, why?

Please check your inbox and spam/junk folder.

My area of expertise is not listed, can it be added?

Yes, Qtrainers.com welcomes suggestions for more courses, just email info@Qtrainers.com with your suggestions.

My personal details have changed; will Qtrainers.com change them for me?

Qtrainers.com enables members to keep their details up to date by logging in to the Edit profile and manages their own profile. When a trainer clicks on the Update button in Edit Profile-Edit your details, Qtrainers.com is notified on the request to amend the details held. The update button is disabled in Edit your details until Qtrainers.com has approved/disapproved the request.

I want to remove all my details from Qtrainers.com and any of its websites, how do I do this?

You can directly delete your account from our website.

My whole profile is deleted accidentally, what should I do now?

Within 14 days you can connect Qtrainers.com to retrieve your account by providing the relevant details of your account as requested by Qtrainers.com team and your account will be reactivated post verification by our Qtrainers.com team.

Can I promote other user training programmes on my profile?

No, you cannot promote other user training programmes on your profile and if you are determined promoting others training programmes that you do not own, i.e., stolen work, then your account will be closed and legal action may be taken against you.

How do I stop receiving emails from Qtrainers.com?

To stop receiving any of the email notification, go to the Edit Profile page, login and you will then have access to your profile management facility where you can turn on or off the email notifications.

Can I upload more than one course?

Yes, any Trainer can upload all training courses.

Why am I unable to follow an Employer?

You can only follow that company who has accepted your following request.

Why my account is suspended?

There are many reasons for suspending a user's account:

- Posting invalid or improper content in a course description, or on the messages. This may include advertisements and illegal or inappropriate information.
- Creating multiple accounts. Users can only have ONE account, which can use to both hire and for searching training programmes.
- Violating the Qtrainers.com Terms and Conditions. This may also result in account termination. Please read and understand our Terms and Conditions before using the site.

If you believe your account has been suspended in error, please send an email to support@Qtrainers.com using your registered email address.

Why my Training Courses are invalid?

We do not allow courses with content that may harm the business operation or reputation of Trainers or cause a possible loss of services of its companies.

Following is a list of some of the projects that violate our Terms and Conditions:

- Advertising services
- Buying/selling/creating of Accounts (email, eBay, social media sites, etc.)
- Buying/selling of likes or followers in social media accounts

- Generation of fake reviews
- Hacking
- Scam Training Programmes
- Selling of end courses
- Selling of stolen courses

Please refer to our Terms and Conditions and Code of Conduct if your project did not fall on of any above.